Grading Criteria

GLOBIS Asia Campus, Pre-MBA courses. Last updated: November 2026.

There are no examinations

Assessment is continuous. You are graded on the work you prepare before each class, your contribution to class discussion, and, in some courses, a written report.

To be eligible for grading

1. Attend at least four of the six classes within the registered period.
2. Submit the Day 4 report by the deadline, for courses that include one.

If you do not meet these requirements, your grade is recorded as "Ineligible for grading" and the course is not completed.

What counts as attendance

You are marked present for a class when you:

- join within the first hour of the class start time, and
- are present for at least two hours of the three-hour class.

Repeated lateness may result in a deduction of points.

What is graded

Component	Critical Thinking Organizational Behavior and Leadership	Essentials of Marketing and Strategy
Preparation assignments	5 pts	18 pts
Class review posts	5 pts	5 pts
Review assignment	3 pts	9 pts
Class participation	48 pts	48 pts
Report (Day 4)	40 pts	Not applicable

Class participation is scored by the lecturer in every class, on both the quality and the quantity of your contribution.

Assignments count once the lecturer has accepted them. Class review posts must be submitted within the posting period for that class.

Grades

Grades are A, B, C, D or F, awarded on a curve relative to the students eligible for grading in your class.

A, B, C or D complete the course. F or Ineligible for grading do not, and the course would need to be retaken.

Full grading details for your course are set out in its syllabus, issued at the start of the term.
